

09/317,916

ABSTRACT

A maintenance of a suppression pool or spent fuel storage pool in a reactor primary containment vessel of a nuclear power plant includes a cleaning step of a water in the suppression pool and a decontamination step of an interior of the suppression pool, and in the maintenance, the coated film applied on an inner surface of a wall portion of the suppression pool is inspected. These cleaning, decontaminating and inspecting steps are performed by divers while maintaining a water level in the suppression pool.

09317916.052599